Smart Motorists Will Have Cars Inspected Early

"The month of April is automobile inspection month in the state of Maine," Harold I. Goss, Secretary of State, reminds Maine motorists.

"The smart motorist will take care of this semi-annual requirement early," he added, "in order to avoid the long lines at the end of the month."

"Get that inspection sticker as soon as you can," Mr. Goss advises, "and be certain that all the vital parts of your car are checked thoroughly. Plan to be present when the inspection is made, and see for yourself the condition of your car. After all, defective equipment could very well cost you your life. Drive a safe car!"

FIVE TOWN TEACHERS TO MEET NEXT MONDAY, APRIL 5
There will be a meeting of the Five Town Teachers' Club at Crescent Park School, Monday, April 5th.

Charles Chapman, principal, and eighth grade pupils, will present the following musical program:

COMMENTS FROM YOUR TOWN MANAGER

In coming to you as your first town manager, I am naturally pleased at having been chosen from a field of several candidates. Yet, this makes me feel it will be my duty and also a privilege to render my best efforts to your interests.

The many friends of Mr. Bisbee, Mr. Harrington, Mr. Hutchinson, and Mr. Brown will miss them in the various offices they have held for a long time. We owe them a very sincere thank you.

We plan to have the Town Office open from 9:00 to 4:30 Monday through Friday; 9:00 to 12 o'clock Saturday. To those who are unable to transact town business during those hours, please call 69 for a definite appointment.

During the next few weeks as the frost is coming out, roads will need special consideration. Heavy trucking on the tarva roads will, as you know, cause serious damage and will take taxpayers' money to repair. May we have the cooperation of people who must do heavy trucking on our side roads.

I am sure Mrs. Lucas, our secretary, joins me in wishing you to feel free to bring your municipal problems in for consideration.

MRS. BRYANT NAMED CHAIRMAN IN CANCER DRIVE

Mrs. Richard Bryant of Bethel will serve as fund-raising chairman of Oxford North during this month's Maine Cancer Crusade, according to an announcement by Mrs. Lester F. Weeks of Waterville, state chairman of volunteer service.

Mrs. John Forbes of Bethel has been appointed deputy chairman of fund raising in the county division by Mrs. Bryant.

Mrs. Bryant has acted as a volunteer on the town level since 1951, having served as town treasurer and town chairman during the two previous crusades.

A housewife who works part time in a store, Mrs. Bryant is the associate conductress of the Purity Chapter, No. 102, Order of the Eastern Star.

"I appreciate the confidence placed in me by making me county chairman," said Mrs. Bryant, "and I know the people of Oxford North will co-operate in the fight against cancer by giving generously to the 1954 Maine Cancer Crusade."

Bazaar Planning Meeting April 16

Last fall April 2nd was designated as the date for the Spring meeting to formulate plans for this year's Bazaar.

However, there are already several events scheduled for that date, also the next Friday, April 9. Because of this the committee felt it best to postpone their planning meeting to Friday, April 16th. It hopes that many more can attend.

Some groups have already started plans we know, some are busy making things for their booths and it is hoped more will be heard from on the 16th. To date there have been NO replies to the letters sent out last fall.

All organizations and groups are requested to be represented and reported on April 16th, at the Legion Rooms at 7:30 p. m.

APRIL IS EASTER SEAL MONTH

Baster Seals mean a brighter future for Peter and hundreds of other crippled children in the state of Maine. The Pine Tree Society for Crippled Children has a year-round program to help these children, either at the Hyde Memorial Home in Bath, or the Pine Tree Camp in Rome, where children can come for the special treatment they need to help overcome their handicaps.

The story of Peter is similar to that of many other children who have been at Hyde Memorial Home as the result of cerebral palsy, polio or other crippling conditions. Through the funds raised annually by the Pine Tree Society for Crippled Children, there is this home in Maine where youngsters can be treated effectively through the medium of a corps of trained nurses, physical therapists, occupational and speech therapists.

The young children go to nursery school in the morning, while the older boys and girls have school all day, just like they would at home. This educational program is provided also through the efforts of the Pine Tree Society which actively supported a bill in the Legislature to establish a Division for the education of the handicapped children.

Hundreds of crippled children, through this Division of the Department of Education are receiving education either in their homes or are provided transportation to school.

Doctors throughout the state give their services and come frequently to the Home to care for the children. Peter can attend Pine Tree Camp as soon as he is able to walk and dress himself. Children at the camp are between the ages of 8 and 16, and with this year-round program, they learn to work, talk and have a lot of fun all the time. All this is made possible by the hundreds of volunteer workers during the month before Easter, who help raise the money to carry on this program in Maine.

McHenry Boatwright

BARITONE SOLOIST COMING HERE APRIL 8

McHenry Boatwright, Negro baritone of Boston, who was invited to sing at a banquet given there in honor of President Eisenhower last fall, will give a concert in the William Bingham Gymnasium April 8 at 8 o'clock. His program will include English folk songs, the Torador Song from Bizet's Carmen, and Negro spirituals. One of the spirituals will be set in Mr. Boatwright's own arrangement. He will be accompanied by Walter Marcuse of Bethel, who is a member of the Gould Academy faculty and teacher of music in the town. Mr. Marcuse is known as an artist in his own right.

Additional professional engagements adding still further lustre to Mr. Boatwright's career include a forthcoming appearance with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, as soloist on the Mutual Radio Network's "Enchanted Hour," Sunday, May 2, and as featured singer on the annual "Gershwin Memorial Concert," in Lewisohn Stadium in New York on May 20.

The concert by Mr. Boatwright marks the third and final musical event sponsored by the Bethel Music Appreciation Group. The three artists of the first rank who have appeared: George Alfred Lowe, Alfred Krips, and the much-anticipated McHenry Boatwright, are all friends and former associates of Walter Marcuse. It is through the latter's enthusiastic desire to bring real artists to Bethel that the musical lovers of Oxford County have had the rare privilege of listening to such excellent vocal and instrumental music. A hearty response by the public to this third and final concert for this season will insure that more fine artists will come to Bethel during the coming year.

The Battle For Distribution

We are witnessing a healthy change in the American economy. We are shifting from a seller's to a buyer's market. In other words the consumer, who in normal times is returning to his old power and glory, this is all to the good. A neighbor of mine dropped the hint that he might consider trading in his two-year-old automobile. That evening a local car dealer telephoned. And the next day four salesmen, from four different companies, drove gleaming new 1954 models into his driveway and made enticing propositions. He bought a car, and he told me that he'd made the best trade-in deal he'd made on a car in 12 years.

The situation today, as our country cuts down on its war production and builds up its peacetime production, is a challenge to American entrepreneurs. Contrary to the propaganda meanings of the advocates of Big Government, I predict that the American entrepreneurs will win this "Battle for Distribution." They've had tougher battles, and they have won them.

Winning Production Battles
In 1941, when America was suddenly thrust into war, President Roosevelt called for war production quotas which everybody thought impossible to achieve. Nevertheless, American entrepreneurs set to work building planes, ships, tanks and guns, and new factories to produce still more armaments. They far exceeded the quotas. In fact they out-produced all the rest of the world in armaments, and this achievement won World War II.

Then came 1945, and the war's end, and the necessity to convert from military production to the production of civilian goods. It was imperative that this be done without creating serious unemployment. The propaganda of the Big Government advocates said it couldn't be done, that government would have to retain fairly rigid controls over everything. They were wrong. The private enterprise system achieved new records of peacetime production, employment rose to new peacetime highs, and there was virtually no unemployment.

Other Battles Won
Next came June, 1950, and the Korean War. The government called for vast new armament production, and the economy shifted once more to one predominantly influenced by war and preparations for war. This time the government called for vast new armament production, and the economy shifted once more to one predominantly influenced by war and preparations for war. This time the government asked private enterprise to expand production facilities so that an almost adequate flow of consumer goods could be continued, averting the need for rationing. And American business and industry responded. This was another battle of production which the private enterprise won.

With the Korean War ended, we now hear commentators saying that production is going to be overdone, that the markets will become glutted, that unemployment will result, and that we will have another depression. It is my conviction that the private enterprise will also win the battle for distribution and consumption. America's needs are expanding swiftly. More than 11,000 new babies are born every day—a record! An estimated $275-billion in individual savings is waiting to be utilized by a reawakened salesmanship and private competition.

Preeminent Future

If American industry produces the right things in the right quantities, it will be impossible to over-produce. Moreover, there is such that private enterprise can do to expand our foreign trade. If government gives the right kind of encouragement—eliminating the inherent incentives in our American system—there will be a great peacetime production, adequate distrib-

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

JOSEPH ARAUJO, 2822 Alabama Street, La Crescenta, California, learned through an experience that has served him in good stead that if you spend all your time worrying, you don't have time to think about solving your problem, and that if you crowd worry out of your mind, and work with calm, your problems work themselves out. Half a dozen years ago he went into business for himself. He borrowed some money from his family and with a little he had saved, he opened a haberdashery. The first year all went well; business was good. But as he started the second year, business dropped off; there were days when all he sold was a handkerchief.

Worries? He had them. Bills had to be met and in addition, his family had to live. He didn't worry only when at the store either. That wasn't enough. He went home and worried half the night. He says how his wife was able to live with him he will never understand.

After about three months with his waking hours filled with worry, and his nights filled with restless turning and tossing, business began to pick up and he was making a fair living. Then he decided to put the store up for sale. Three months went by and he had prospects but no buyers. In the meantime, he again started to worry. Finally he said to himself, "Joe, worrying didn't help business three months ago, and it isn't going to help sell the store, so you might as well stop." Worrying had hindered not helped. Three months later he sold the store.

Economic Highlights

happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

What goes on in the mind of a native-born American Communist? What is responsible for the direction his thinking takes? These and kindred questions have been the subject of endless discussion. A significant contribution has been made by Judge Frank Picard, of the U. S. District Court, Detroit. The occasion was his sentencing of six Michigan Communist leaders who had been convicted of conspiracy against the government.

The Judge began by saying that it was not his desire to kick a man when he is down, "and you people are down." But he went on, "You have been convicted of one of the gravest offenses of which a citizen may be guilty—a plot—a conspiracy—to overthrow your government by force and violence... That's akin to treason."

The Communists before the bench, he pointed out, were neither stupid nor ignorant. They had demonstrated high abilities in various directions. In his opinion, they were sincere believers in Communism, and in the idea that it is the masses of the people. Then he said: "The only trouble with you is that in addition to your own extremely liberal ideas that put every capitalist in the role of a villain, you have been attacked by a virus known as 'Russianitis' and you really are gullible enough to think that if you could get control—with the help of Russia—of this country you would be able to shrug off Russia and then enjoy the millennium... Either that or you believe you would be big shots in this country."

At this point, Judge Picard dealt, and highly effectively, with the old claim that Russia has no control whatsoever over the American Communist party and that it is an indigenous organization free of any alien influence. He discussed, in detail, the about-face the American Communists took when the Nazi-Soviet non-aggression pact collapsed and Germany and Russia went to war. Prior to that time, American Communism had urged a strict isolationist stand for this country. Thereafter, no group was more eager for our participation in the conflict. He cited other examples, and said, "The only time you have been with the United States was when Russia and the United States happened to be fighting on the same side.... Your admiration for Russia is so great that there isn't any doubt... that there is nothing you wouldn't do—lie, cheat, or even worse—in order to obtain your objectives."

Shortly thereafter, the Judge made this extremely important statement—and what makes it extremely important is that the Communists always cry that they are persecuted, Hitler-fashion, for their honest convictions. Judge

OUT economic debate has become a running battle of accusations and finger-pointing about the big unanswered question about our business outlook being black or bright overshadowed by the battle of the pot and the kettle.

On February 16, Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D. N. C.) put some findings to the record, apparently from a search of the 1949 Congressional Record made by the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer, edited by Democratic National Committee member Jonathan Daniels. Here are comments read into the record: "Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R. N. D.) in a speech on the House Floor Feb. 21, 1949, said: 'Few soup lines have yet shown up but it is now apparent there will be plenty of them within the next six months.'"

"Sen. George W. Malone (R. Nev.) foresaw an equally dark future in a speech on June 16 of that year: 'Several significant straws in the wind are now pointing to a camel's back that has reached the breaking point,' warned Malone. 'The camel's back is our employment, national security, and economic structure, which will surely collapse...'

"Senator Homer Capehart (R. Ind.) said: 'I say that business in America is failing. Unemployment is increasing. Anyone who can read can write, anyone who can add, knows that our national income for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950 is going to be smaller than it will be for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949.'"

Rep. Bonner included in his remarks about what the Republicans had said in 1949, a remark of his own about the present debate:

... and adequate consumption. Our standard of living under these conditions will go up four or five per cent a year for the next 25 years, that improving 100 per cent in a generation.

"But the Republicans thought they were performing a great service by warning of a depression. However, when the Democrats now decree economic troubles ahead, they are called 'left-wingers' and 'political sadists.'"

Which could—or could not—be led up to these remarks by Rep. A. L. Miller (R. Nev.) on March 3: "A hard core of Americans for Democratic Action members and other left-wing groups are talking of depression. These people fail to interpret the great strength of America. They are devoid of faith, courage, and determination—the three things that will keep America great."

Scanning the Congressional Record of 1949, I can find no statements of those who are now crying depression. Unemployment, wages, construction and buying power were considerably lower then. It appears that some are trying to make political fodder out of something which should be above political bawling."

Not looking back to 1949 is Sen. Wayne Morse (R. Ore.) who claimed in a TV show on Feb. 21 that soup lines were reappearing in 1954. Two days later he repeated in a Senate speech: "When I talk about soup lines increasing in America—and I do talk about them increasing in America—I point out that every unemployment insurance line in America is in effect a soup line in fact..."

In the midst of all these comments there are not enough facts for the average citizen to determine how well off—or how poor—the business condition is and will be in the days ahead.

LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Governors sound-off with proclamations—mayors too—and Congress views with favor or with concern what's to come, so I deduct it is legal and proper for any hombre to put in an oar. Take the boys there in old Law-Makin'-Town, they are a pretty fair lot, all in all, and if they only knew what we want 'way out here, we would get same. I am no shirking violator so I pick up the torch and enlighten 'em.

What we want out here is not to be looked upon as if we think of nothing but a hand-out from Uncle Samuel. The main thing that we expect from Congress is for it to keep our army and navy in the keenest, brightest, fighting trim—our courts staffed with men of balance—our individual States to be looked upon as qualified to run their own shebangs. It's that simple.

Out here we know how to run our schools—our power houses—our savings accounts at the bank. We don't like a flock of Govt. employees riding high wide and handsome on our bent backs—we don't want to be led by the hand or to be pushed around. We do not consider the congressman with the most novel way to spend the most of the quickest, as our keenest hero. He is not such. More congressmen should put more ears to the ground there in old Bazookville while the puttin' is good. It might prolong their political longevity. Longevity, that's quite good, says Henry. Well, well, same to you, I says. Yours with the low down, JO SEBARRA

Picard told them: "You really think you are martyrs. But you're not going to jail for your belief. Nor for any books. You can read them all. You're going to jail because you want to force those beliefs on others by force and violence. So you're not martyrs—you're goats—and Russian goats at that."

Finally, the defendants were sentenced to prison terms ranging from four to five years, and to fines of $10,000 each, the maximum allowed by the statute.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Las Vegas, N. M., Daily Opt.: "The rule that presidents kill themselves on the job has a happy exception in the case of Herbert Hoover who is performing valuable service to the nation 21 years after he left the White House.... Earlier Presidents came back for brief periods of service in the executive department and the Congress, but of all the last Hoover has contributed the most in his post-presidential period."

Windom, Minn., Citizen: "Over in Russia the communists have long been using capitalistic methods to get their production up. The man who produces the most gets the most pay. They have had piece work for years. They have had a wide pay differential.... And now as a means of making an excuse for this use of capitalistic measures they claim to have invented something new, it's just old-fashioned American incentive pay, based on the theory that he who produces the most should receive the greatest remuneration...."

Medford, Mass., Mercury: "A dozen children in the town of Middlebury in New Jersey bragged to police of their vandalism when caught in such acts as breaking windows, slashing automobile tires, pulling up shrubbery.... They were told their 'confessions' were tape recorded, but not why.... Next, the police brought the parents of the twelve offenders to the station and played back the recordings.... They had to hear their own children's voices to believe their depredations...."

Covina, Calif., Argus - Citizen: Both political parties can do more for the country and at the same time improve their chances at the polls in November by bowing less at each other and working shoulder to shoulder to solve the national problems."

Bedford, Ind., Daily Times-Mail: Newspapers in 1933 reached new heights in circulation and advertising, giving them the largest volume in their history in both of these categories. This means that in spite of competition from television, radio and magazines for both the readers' time and the advertisers' dollars, newspapers have been given a tremendous vote of confidence."

Olympia, Wash., Olympian: "It was Thomas Jefferson, himself a farmer, who once said, in effect, that if we allow government to tell us when, where, and what to plant, and when to harvest, we'll jolly well starve to death."

ZETA CHAPTER MET MARCH 27 AT WEST PARIS

The Zeta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma met at West Paris school, Saturday, March 27.

At the business meeting a "thank you" letter from Anne Nelson of Mexico, who was given a scholarship, was read.

Mrs. Frances Brown, legislative chairman, read letters from Maine's senators and representatives, who expressed their favorable views pertaining to exemption on pensions. It was voted to give another scholarship this year also to donate to the State scholarship fund.

The State meeting will be held April 24 at the Eastland Hotel in Portland. The next meeting of Zeta Chapter will be a May breakfast, May 1st, at Dixfield. The hostesses are: Hazel Towle, Ada Bracy, Janice Starbird, Frances Brown, Mrs. Grace Mathews, West Sumner, who has taught twenty years in missionary high schools in China, gave a very interesting talk, "Liberated from the Communists."

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Agnes, Gray, Dorothy Ross, Keris Chaplin. V. A. NEWS LETTER

Veterans with the Spring urge to buy their dream homes under the GI loan program should pin this advice from the Veterans Administration to their cuffs for ready reference.

The advice comes from Myles P. Cronkite, Officer-in-Charge, VA Office, Bangor.

1. Make sure your home is near enough to transportation, schools and shopping to suit the needs of you and your family.

2. Be sure your income is large enough to pay all costs of home ownership, including loan principal and interest, taxes and insurance, utilities and maintenance, and anything you are buying on installments.

3. Make certain your interests in such matters as deposits, purchase agreements, and sales contracts are fully protected before you make a deposit or sign any document.

4. Be sure you understand the important legal documents you have to sign when you make "final settlement" or "close the loan."

5. And remember, a GI loan must be repaid in 30 years or less, but like any other debt, they must be paid back on schedule.

Details on this bit of advice, and many other helpful hints for veterans thinking about buying a home with the aid of a GI loan, are contained in the 30-page VA pamphlet, "To The Home-Buying Veteran," available at any VA office.

Mr. Cronkite said that veterans may obtain a copy of "To The Home-Buying Veteran" by writing or visiting their nearest VA office. VA Offices are located at 56 Harlow St., Bangor; 171 Middle St., Portland, and VA Center, Togus, Maine.

THE CITIZEN OFFICE

Thursday, April 1
I take captive every thought and make it obey Christ. (II Corinthians 10:5, Goodspeed.) Read Psalm 103: 17-22 or Romans 8:12-14.

OBEDIENCE is a major element in life. None can safely disregard laws, natural or spiritual. Happiness, security, and peace are found only in voluntary, cheerful obedience to God. His far-reaching and wise rules govern all existence.

In the spiritual life, belief and complete acceptance of the gospel message, faith in God's revealed will, and obedience that calls for action result in Christlikeness.

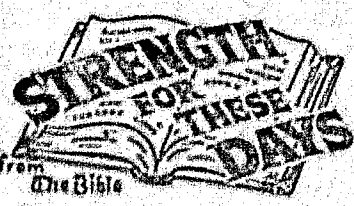

Jesus humbled Himself and became obedient unto death. His meal was to do the will of His Father. He prayed: "Not my will, but thine, be done." "He willed to do His Father's work. Thus he became the chief cornerstone in a world where the power and influence of redemption are at work.

His activity led to the highest and noblest life ever lived. Obedience on our part will lead us to strength, peace, and acceptance with God. In this way we can truly glorify God and bear witness to His salvation.

Prayer
O God, merciful in love and might, let Thy holy will become supreme in all our thoughts, words, and deeds. Help us to walk with Thee in unity and peace, in faith and reverence. In the name of Christ who gave His life for us. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Obedience to God demands Christlike living.
— G. R. McKean (Nova Scotia)

Be still, and know that I am God.—(Psalm 46.)

In the rush of the busiest day—in hurry, tension, worry, anxiety—let one will only pause for a moment to be still, to know that God is all about him: ready through one's prayer to be within him. What wondrous strength can come then in that still moment, in the consciousness of God's presence.

Say you saw it in The CITIZEN.

SPORTS FLASHES

Fancy Pitcher Shortens Career
So-called "new fangled" pitching now displayed in the major leagues does not compare with the power hurling of the earlier era of the game, according to Bobby Wallace, old-time pitcher and shortstop, in the first of a two part story appearing in The Sporting News.

He calls the slider "a disappointing curve," and insists that the screwball, employing arm muscles in reverse twist, takes more out of a modern pitcher's arm than do the conventional fast ball, curve and change-up.

"For my dough," says Bobby, "in the big pinch I'd rather have a pitcher out there with the old fireball and dizzy twisters than all your modern knucklers and dippy-do artists."

Still, as an ex-pitcher himself, he doesn't want to be too dogmatic about it. "It could be this rabbit ball is bringing in a new theory of pitching," Wallace says in the story. As pitchers know they cannot throw this rabbit ball by the batter for nine full innings, maybe the strategy now is based on the hope of fooling the batter by a more eighth or quarter of an inch. Such a scant margin is enough to result in a high fly on a ball hit above the bat center or a grounder below bat center. It is by such tiny fractions of inches that batters become heroes or humas.

"If there is a slow evolution in the theory of pitching, I'm sure today's variety is playing havoc with a lot of salary spongers. I think it was the late Dr. Robert Hyland of St. Louis who claimed that these stuff pitchers were putting such unnatural strain on their pitching muscles that some careers were being shortened by years."

According to The Sporting News, it is reassuring to Bobby's personal outlook that the great pitchers of today, such as Robin Roberts and Alie Reynolds, are still in the classic Johnstons mold.

Milo Johnson Gets First Test
At 33—With Detroit

Four months short of his thirty-fourth birthday, Milo Johnson is getting his first big league trial—and this with the Detroit Tigers. He is a thin-faced, red-haired right-hander of Viking ancestry, eager to prove that his chance has not come too late, says The Sporting News.

Fred Hutchinson, Tiger manager, plans to give him a shot as a relief pitcher since Johnson has excellent control. Milo has pitched for Little Rock (Arkansas) in the Southern Association for the past seven seasons, and, quoting Hutchinson, "Certainly, he has had experience enough."

Yankees Get Sain Through
General Motors

In order to get Johnny Sain back, the New York Yankees had to meet two conditions. First, it had to go to General Motors and get permission for Sain to leave his car and truck agency at Walnut Ridge, Ark. Then it had to lift his salary ten grand, to $30,000.

Sain had been warned, according to The Sporting News, by the GM people that, if he wanted to retain the agency, he would have to stay home and stick to business. Apparently there had been some difficulty during the 1953 season, when John's pitching with the Yankees prevented his personal participation in the business during the season.

According to The Sporting News you can look for a trade between Hank Greenberg of the Indians and the Yankees. Hank, huddling with Dan Topping at Miami Beach last week, wasn't talking about the weather. "While Shantz, kid brother of Bobby Shantz, is one of the catchers in the Athletics camp—and one of the best—unfortunately, he can't hit as well as his brother Bobby.... Do you know that last season 34 different players performed at third base in the American League? National League clubs employed 26.... During the winter the Washington Senators turned down offers for Julio Becquer, Cuban first baseman, that ran as high as $40,000 from Cleveland, White Sox, and Dodgers. He's only 21 and will be the Washington first baseman in a couple of years.... The catching situation on the Detroit Tigers is so unsettled there are rumors of a switch with Buffalo for Al Lakeman, 34-year-old receiver who failed in three National League trials.

It is one of the beautiful compensations of life that no man can sincerely try to help another, without helping himself.

WATERFOWL MEETING

POSTPONED UNTIL JULY

Commissioner Roland H. Cobb of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game has announced postponement of the waterfowl meeting scheduled for April 3rd in Bangor, until the latter part of July, exact date to be set later.

The Commissioner, in announcing the postponement, stated the reason behind the action was that the April date was too early for the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service to have worked up the population data from the winter and spring waterfowl surveys, and therefore, there would be no estimate available as to the length of the 1954 waterfowl season.

Postponement until July will give the Service time to supply the necessary figures and should make it possible for the interested sportsmen to discuss the question of a split or straight waterfowl season more intelligently at that time.

The charities that soothe, and heal, and bless, lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.

CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL

Congressional Record Report

Wednesday, March 24, at 2:00 P. M. the eighth grade class of Crescent Park School had a debate which was supervised by Mr. Chapman, our eighth grade teacher.

Mr. Chapman suggested that we should be the House of Representatives. This was approved by the class.

The two parties, Democrat and Republican, voted for the Speaker of the House. Mike Stowell, a Republican, was the winning candidate.

Among those appointed for various positions were Edna Pingree as secretary and Charles Bean as timer.

Out of the volunteers two groups of three were appointed as speakers. One group was the negative, the other affirmative.

The speakers of the negative side were Betty Lou York, Paul Murphy, and Sonia Swinton. The affirmative: Dawnie Christie, Jack Greig, and Robert Butters. Three minutes were given for each speaker.

Our topic was: Do You Believe a Woman Could Serve Successfully as President of the U. S.?

"Negative Side of the Story"

Women act on impulse only. They don't stop to think things over as men do.

Tiffy would object to bloodshed on the battlefield.

A woman wouldn't know about labor unless they worked as a man, and we wouldn't want a President like that. An ordinary woman would go "mad" under the strain.

Many women that have money would think only of themselves. She would have to be chosen young to have political training.

Women are not considered equal in some countries. This would be a disadvantage for men in other countries don't consider women important.

Our country wouldn't be as safe. The enemy would think a woman couldn't handle it.

Most women wouldn't want to be a President. A woman wouldn't be able to relax if she went on a vacation. She would keep thinking if she had done the right thing.

"Affirmative Side of the Story"

The United States is noted for its respect of its women.

Why shouldn't we have a woman for president? Women take other government offices. They are fast at thinking, talking.

Women do jobs that men do. They are slowly but surely taking over all the jobs men can do.

It has been proved that women such women as Margaret Chase Smith and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest and many others have done this.

A woman has as much courage as any man if not more.

A woman is keen and efficient. Not always do women change their minds as people say. This makes a woman more dependable. A woman can keep a secret just as well as men.

Many women have proved themselves to be strong executives in many other businesses. Other countries have been ruled successfully by women. With her greater chances for superior training, American women should be as successful as women from other countries.

"Judges' Report"

We are proud to say that we were very glad to have Mrs. David Thompson, Mrs. R. R. Tibbetts and Rev. Pendleton as judges.

Dawnie Christie and Paul Murphy were the winners for the excellent speeches. The affirmative side won the debate because they had the most points.

Rev. Carter brought his tape recorder and recorded the debate. The class voting as states decided 19 years and 35 years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank most sincerely everyone who was so kind to us in our recent bereavement; we want to especially mention the beautiful flowers from the friends, neighbors of East Bethel, the management and employees of Bayshore Industries of Eikton, Md., and the Plastic Assembled Products Co. of Eikton, Md., and to the Rev. Mr. Dolphin for his comforting words.

BESSE - HUNT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hunt of Bethel are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Norma Louise, to Bryant B. Besse of Jamaica Plain and Hyannis, Mass. Mr. Besse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard C. Besse of Hyannis, Mass.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at Bacon Memorial Chapel, Northeastern University, by Rev. Charles Hanley, Dean of Chapel, on Saturday, March 20th.

The bride wore a ballerina-length Chantilly lace gown and matching cap with pearl trim and shoulder-length veil and carried a cascade of white roses.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Rebecca Kendall, of Bethel, wore a ballerina-length blue rice-paper taffeta gown with matching picture hat, shoes and mitts, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white flowers. Miss Cynthia Roberts, niece of the bride, and Miss Carol Ann Besse, niece of the groom, served as flower girls and were dressed in white organdy and carried miniature colonial bouquets of pink and white flowers.

Gerard C. Besse, Jr., of Centerville, Mass., brother of the groom, served as best man. Bruce A. Besse, another brother of the groom, of Hyannis, Mass., and Michael J. Kaulapoulos of Waltham, Mass., were ushers. The bride's mother was gowned in navy blue with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother was gowned in grey-blue with pink accessories and also wore a corsage of pink roses.

After a small reception at the University, Mr. and Mrs. Besse left for a short trip to New York. They will make their home in Somerville, Mass.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, April 1

I take captive every thought and make it obey Christ. (II Cor. 10:5) Read Psalm 133: 1-3 or Romans 6:11-13.

OBEDIENCE is a major element in life. None can safely disregard laws, natural or spiritual. Happiness, security, and peace are found only in voluntary, cheerful obedience to God. His far-reaching and wise rules govern all existence.

In the spiritual life, belief and complete acceptance of the gospel message, faith in God's revealed will, and obedience that calls for action result in Christlikeness.

Jesus humbled Himself and became obedient unto death. His meat was to do the will of His Father. He prayed: "Not my will, but Thine, be done." "He will do His will."

— G. R. McKean (Nova Scotia)

Prayer
O God, merciful in love and might, let Thy holy will become supreme in all our thoughts, words, and deeds. Help us to walk with Thee in unity and peace, in faith and reverence. In the name of Christ who gave His life for us. Amen.

Thought For The Day

Obedience to God demands Christlike living.

— G. R. McKean (Nova Scotia)

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
Be still, and know that I am God. (Psalm 46:10)

In the rush of the busiest day with hurry, tension, worry, anxiety, we often will only pause for a moment to be still, to know that God is all about him, ready through our prayer to be within him.

What wonderful strength can come then to that still moment, in the consciousness of God's presence.

— G. R. McKean (Nova Scotia)

Fancy Pitches Shorten Careers

So-called "new fangled" pitching now displayed in the major leagues does not compare with the power hurling of the earlier era of the game, according to Bobby Wallace, old-time pitcher and shortstop, in the first of a two part story appearing in The Sporting News.

He calls the slider "a disappointing curve" and insists that the screwball, employing arm muscles in reverse twist, takes more out of a modern pitcher's arm than do the conventional fast ball, curve and change-up.

"For my dough," says Bobby, "in the big pinch I'd rather have a pitcher out there with the old fireball and dizzy twisters than all your modern knucklers and dippy-do artillets."

Still, as an ex-pitcher himself, he doesn't want to be too dogmatic about it. "It could be this rabbit ball is bringing in a new theory of pitching," Wallace says in the story. As pitchers know they cannot throw this rabbit ball by the batter for nine full innings, maybe the strategy now is based on the hope of fooling the batter by a mere eighth or quarter of an inch. Such a scant margin is enough to result in a high fly or a ball hit above the bat center or a grounder below bat center. It is by such tiny fractions of inches that batters become heroes or bums.

"If there is a slow evolution in the theory of pitching, I'm sure today's variety is playing havoc with a lot of salary seekers. I think it was the late Dr. Robert Hyland of St. Louis who claimed that these stuff pitchers were putting such unnatural strain on their pitching muscles that some careers were being shortened by years."

According to The Sporting News, it is reassuring to Bobby's personal outlook that the great pitchers of today, such as Robin Roberts and Alie Reynolds, are still in the classic Johnstone mold.

Milo Johnson Gets First Test At 33—With Detroit

Four months short of his thirty-fourth birthday, Milo Johnson is getting his first big league trial—and this with the Detroit Tigers. He is a thin-faced, red-haired right-hander of Viking ancestry, eager to prove that his chance has not come too late, says The Sporting News.

Fred Hutchinson, Tiger manager, plans to give him a shot as a relief pitcher since Johnson has excellent control. Milo has pitched for Little Rock (Arkansas) in the Southern Association for the past seven seasons, and, quelling Hutchinson, "Certainly, he has had experience enough."

Yankees Get Sain Through General Motors

In order to get Johnny Sain back, the New York Yankees had to meet two conditions. First, it had to go to General Motors and get permission for Sain to leave his car and truck agency at Walnut Ridge, Ark. Then it had to lift his salary ten grand, to $40,000.

Sain had been warned, according to The Sporting News, by the GM people that, if he wanted to retain the agency, he would have to stay home and stick to business. Apparently there had been some difficulty during the 1953 season, when John's pitching with the Yankees prevented his personal participation in the business during the season.

According to The Sporting News you can look for a trade between Hank Greenberg of the Indians and the Yankees. Hank, ludding with Dan Topping at Miami Beach last week, wasn't talking about the weather. Willie Shantz, 313 brother of Bobby Shantz, is one of the catchers in the Athletics camp and one of the best—unfortunately, he can't hit as well as his brother Bobby. Do you know that last season 34 different players performed at third base in the American League? National League clubs employed 24. During the winter the Washington Senators turned down offers for Julio Becquer, Cuban first baseman, that ran as high as $50,000 from Cleveland, White Sox, and Dodgers. He's only 21 and will be the Washington first baseman in a couple of years. The catching situation on the Detroit Tigers is so unsettled there are rumors of a switch with Buffalo for Al Lakenman, 34-year-old receiver who failed in three National League trials.

It is one of the beautiful compensations of life that no man can sincerely try to help another, without helping himself.

WATERFOWL MEETING POSTPONED UNTIL JULY

Commissioner Roland H. Cobb of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game has announced postponement of the waterfowl meeting scheduled for April 3rd in Bangor, until the latter part of July, exact date to be set later.

The Commissioner, in announcing the postponement, stated the reason behind the action was that the April date was too early for the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service to have worked up the population data from the winter and spring waterfowl surveys, and therefore, there would be no estimate available as to the length of the 1954 waterfowl season.

Postponement until July will give the Service time to supply the necessary figures and should make it possible for the interested sportsmen to discuss the question of a split or straight waterfowl season more intelligently at that time.

The charities that soothe, and heal, and bless, lie scattered at the feet of men like flowers.

CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL

Congressional Record Report
Wednesday, March 24, at 2:00 P. M. the eighth grade class of Crescent Park School had a debate which was supervised by Mr. Chapman, our eighth grade teacher.

Mr. Chapman suggested that we should be the House of Representatives. This was approved by the class.

The two parties, Democrat and Republican, voted for the Speaker of the House. Mike Stowell, a Republican, was the winning candidate.

Among those appointed for various positions were Rita Pingree as secretary and Charles Bean as timer.

Out of the volunteers two groups of three were appointed as speakers. One group was the negative, the other affirmative.

The speakers of the negative side were Betty Lou York, Paul Murphy, and Sonia Swinton. The affirmative: Dawne Christie, Jack Greig, and Robert Butters. Three minutes were given for each speaker.

Our topic was: Do You Believe a Woman Could Serve Successfully as President of the U. S.?

"Negative Side of the Story"
Women act on impulse only. They don't stop to think things over as men do.

They would object to bloodshed on the battlefield.

A woman wouldn't know about labor unless they worked as a man and we wouldn't want a President like that. An ordinary woman would go "mad" under the strain.

Many women that have money would think only of themselves. She would have to be chosen young to have political training.

Women are not considered equal in some countries. This would be a disadvantage for men in other countries don't consider women important.

Our country wouldn't be as safe. The enemy would think a woman couldn't handle it.

Most women wouldn't want to be a President. A woman wouldn't be able to relax if she went on a vacation. She would keep thinking if she had done the right thing.

"Affirmative Side of the Story"
The United States is noted for its respect of its women.

Why shouldn't we have a woman for president? Women take other government offices. They are faster at thinking, talking.

Women do jobs that men do. They are slowly but surely taking over all the jobs men can do.

It has been proved that women such women as Margaret Chase Smith and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest and many others have done this.

A woman has as much courage as any man if not more.

A woman is keen and efficient. Not always do women change their minds as people say. This makes a woman more dependable. A woman can keep a secret just as well as men.

Many women have proved themselves to be strong executives in many other businesses. Other countries have been ruled successfully by women. With her greater chances for superior training. American women should be as successful as women from other countries.

"Judges' Report"
We are proud to say that we were very glad to have Mrs. David Thompson, Mrs. R. R. Tibbitts and Rev. Pendleton as judges.

Dawne Christie and Paul Murphy were the winners for the excellent speeches. The affirmative side won the debate because they had the most points.

Rev. Carter brought his tape recorder and recorded the debate. The class voting as stated decided 19 years and 35 days.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank most sincerely everyone who was so kind to us in our recent bereavement; we want to especially mention the beautiful flowers from the friends, neighbors of East Bethel, the management and employees of Dayhore Industries of Elton, Md., and the Plastic Assembled Products Co. of Elton, Md., and to the Rev. BESSE - HUNT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hunt of Bethel are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Norma Louise, to Bryant B. Besse of Jamaica Plain and Hyannis, Mass. Mr. Besse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard C. Besse of Hyannis, Mass.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at Bacon Memorial Chapel, Northeastern University, by Rev. Charles Hanley, Dean of Chapel, on Saturday, March 20th.

The bride wore a ballerina-length Chantilly lace gown and matching cap with pearl trim and shoulder-length veil and carried a cascade of white roses.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Rebecca Kendall, of Bethel, wore a ballerina-length blue rice-paper taffeta gown with matching picture hat, shoes and mits, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white flowers. Miss Cynthia Roberts, niece of the bride, and Miss Carol Ann Besse, niece of the groom, served as flower girls and were dressed in white organdy and carried miniature colonial bouquets of pink and white flowers.

Gerard C. Besse, Jr., of Centerville, Mass., brother of the groom, served as best man. Bruce A. Besse, another brother of the groom, of Hyannis, Mass., and Michael J. Kaulapoulos of Waltham, Mass., were ushers. The bride's mother was gown in navy blue with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Besse is a graduate of Gould Academy, Bethel, and Aviation Training School, Boston, and is now employed in the sales office of Bethlehem Steel Co., Boston.

Mr. Besse is a graduate of Barnstable High School and Northeastern University, School of Engineering, and is now studying for his Master's Degree in Business Administration.

After a small reception at the University, Mr. and Mrs. Besse left for a short trip to New York. They will make their home in Somerville, Mass.

"I couldn't believe my eyes"

These are words of WD-45 Tractor owners.

From coast to coast, farmers who own the WD-45 are praising the performance of this great new tractor. And there's no doubt about the reasons for such high praise - it's performance... and price!

The new POWER-CRATER engine gives you the power you've always wanted. This mighty power plant plus AUTOMATIC TRACTION BOOSTER lets the WD-45 pull three bottoms almost effortlessly through fields often considered impossible to plow.

And conveniences, like SNAP-COUPLER, POWER-SHIFT wheels, and TWO-CLUTCH POWER CONTROL add up to a tractor that's unmatched in features and performance...

One demonstration will prove it. And the price will save you hundreds of dollars. Let us show you.

SNAP COUPLER and POWER CRATER are ALLIS-Chalmers trademarks.

We can furnish practically any make Television set you desire but surprisingly enough it isn't the make of set that is important, it is the manner in which it is installed and adjusted.

Our installation and service department is managed by a Television Engineer of 27 years' experience. Very few dealers in Maine, if any, are as well equipped with the Test and Service instruments as we are in our Service Laboratory.

We printed Raytheon above in a larger caption than the other makes because to you the prospective customer it means a large saving in money. Raytheon services free for four months (quick immediate service) and still gives a complete parts guarantee for one year.

If you desire, terms as low as 10% down and two years to pay. This includes installation.

CHARLES B. MASON

Charles B. Mason passed away very suddenly last Friday afternoon, March 26. Although he hadn't been well for some time, his sudden death came as a shock to the community. He was born at Bethel May 1, 1881, the son of George and Annette Church. He had lived here for many years, moving here from Woodstock. For many years he worked at the Ellery summer home at Lake Christopher. During World War II he was employed at the South Portland ship yard. For the past few summers, he had been employed at Birch Villa at Bryant Pond.

Besides his widow, Georgia (Thurlock) Mason, he is survived by six sons, Charles Jr., Robert, Edmund, William, Stuart and Wayne; four daughters, Mrs. Josephine Bartlett, Mrs. Bessie Martin, Orene and Sandra Mason; four grandchildren, three sisters, Mrs. Edna Webster of Portland, Mrs. Nina Goodwin of South Paris, Mrs. Anne Kimball of Locke Mills, and four brothers, Ernest, Fred and Herbert of Locke Mills, and Orin of Bryant Pond, and many nephews and nieces. Funeral services were held at the Locke Mills Union Church on Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Charles Pendleton officiating. Interment was at West Paris.

Steven Swan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swan, celebrated his tenth birthday with a party at his home on March 24. Games were played and those winning prizes were Gary Fuller, Owen Melville, Billy Jordan and Dwight Mills. Refreshments including a nice birthday cake were served after which the children enjoyed watching the "Pinky Lee" and "Howdy Doody" shows on television. Attending the party were Gary Fuller, Alan Corum, Owen Melville, Billy Jordan, Dwight Mills, Billy Swan and

BATTING

Chapter 3

TIPS AND BUNTS

Try to hit where the ball is pitched. For a right-handed batter, if the ball is on the outside, a curve, a fast ball or a change of pace, try to hit to right field or to right-center. If the pitched ball is on the inside, then try to hit to left field. These conditions are reversed, of course, for a left-handed batter.

Use the pitcher for your target. Try to hit the ball right back at him, or through the center of the diamond. There is more hitting space on the ball field through the center of the diamond than in any other part of the playing field. You have a better chance for a base hit by driving through the center of the diamond, with the pitcher for the target, than by trying to pull or push to right field or to left field.

Concentrate on your own batting weakness. If, for instance, you find difficulty in meeting a curve ball, then it is advisable to practice as much as possible in batting against curve balls during practice. This same advice holds for an outside pitch, an inside pitch, a low pitch, or a high pitch.

In other words, know your strength and your own weakness. You will correct your weak points by working on them. Perfection is gained only through continued practice.

When a Strike is Called If the first pitched ball is called a strike by the umpire, and it isn't a strike, in your opinion, do not argue with the umpire over his decision. This advice should be followed if the umpire calls a second strike that does not meet with the batter's approval.

The batter should remember that he is still at the plate until he has three strikes called. This suggestion is given to convince the batter that he comes in contact with the ball with only one swing, and as long as he is at the plate he has his chance to get a base hit with that last swing—even after the umpire has called two strikes.

I suggest that you do not become a first-ball hitter at all times. It is better to wait out the pitcher occasionally.

It is all right to swing at the first pitch occasionally, so that you will surprise the pitcher who may be trying to get away with a strike on a straight fast ball, but a first ball-hitting club seldom wins, a pennant, and a first ball-hitting batter seldom becomes a great batter.

Bunting for Sacrifice

To improve your batting, or to become a good hitter, you must develop bunting. Take your regular position. As the pitch is coming toward you, change your position at the plate, moving the rear foot up practically even with the front foot, and face the pitcher. As you face the pitcher, slip the front hand down on the bat, close to the trademark. Keep your bat absolutely level, because if you have the bat in a slanting or unlevel position, you are inclined to foul or bunt the ball into the air.

Realize first that you are trying to advance your base runner. This is the purpose of the sacrifice bunt. You give yourself up in an attempt to advance a base runner. In plain words, you sacrifice yourself.

Bunting for Base Hit

A batter should not overlook his practice of bunting. A good bunter will upset the infielders on numerous occasions. It is advisable to bunt for a base hit with the bases unoccupied.

Take your regular position and stance at the plate. As you bunt at the pitch, slip your front hand up a trifle on the bat. Also, be alert at the plate, and try to get a quick start after bunting.

There are four types of bunts—down the first base line, or to the first base side of the pitcher; down the third base line, or to the third base side of the pitcher. The "drag bunt" to the right or to the left of the pitcher is an effective part of a batter's value.

Break from the plate on your toes as soon as the bunt is made, and do not follow the ball as you run to first base, because if you watch the ball you lose time, and there are many times when you are thrown out by a step. By heeding this advice you will beat out many infield grounders or bunts.
